

Institute of Leadership & Management (ILM) Endorsed Award – extended Action Learning Facilitator training.
Taking your practice to the next level

Once you have attended the SSE 3 day AL Facilitator training programme you may wish to go on and gain an ILM Endorsed award.

To do this you need to attend the ALC extended programme that consists of a fourth training day, a two hour group call, plus submitting an assignment and learning journal. On successful completion you will gain our ILM Endorsed Award in Action Learning Facilitation – Fundamentals.

What's involved in the extended programme?

- A fourth training day to expand your practice and use of techniques, including feedback and a video of your facilitation and group discussions
- A two hour group call with experienced facilitators addressing your questions on how to set up, implement and introduce Action Learning into work or businesses. This is recorded for further reference.

You will also have:

- A year's study membership with the ILM and access to on-line resources
- Membership of ALC's on-line Community of Practice.

You must attend the day 4 within 9 months of completing your initial 3 day course and submit your written work within 12 months of the final day of your 3 day course.

The location for this day 4 training may not be the same as your original course or with the same people. You will be informed of all ILM day 4 training days that are available.

The cost of the ILM Endorsed Award is £535.
