

ONE DAY WORKSHOP

BETTER BID WRITING

Let us help you to make sense of bid writing!

At a time when the demand for funding is increasing and funding pots are diminishing, writing a successful bid has never been more important.

Our one-day workshop will ensure you are informed and able to make the most of your bid writing for your social enterprise.

Thursday 26th May 2016
Dartington Hall, Devon

Workshop Description

Morning Session

A focus on identifying different funding options and honing which to approach!

This will include:

- Budgeting - what information do you need to collect and how do you relay this
- Understanding and providing evidence of need
- Understanding outcomes, output and how to identify them for your project.

Afternoon Session

A focus on assessing bids and using this learning to develop better bid writing.

This will include:

- Assessing examples of bids—We would like to invite you to submit a bid you are working on that the group can work on together!
- Become an assessor! - If you become responsible for the outcome of the bid, what are you looking for? How can this inform your own application?

Workshop Leader - Louise Treacher—4George Ltd

Louise has worked in Community and Sports development for 20 years, experiencing a range of roles from facility management, development work and more lately, high level strategic engagement and process management. She has worked for local authorities, educational establishments, Sports England and most recently as a self-employed consultant. Louise has operated at local, regional and National levels with Chief Executives and Members of Parliament as well as officers and volunteers working on the ground. Louise has been a grants manager for the SSE for the last two years and has brilliant insight to the funding and bid writing process.
